Essay Question

The question that I have been presented is something that is heavily on the minds of all members of not only the United States but for the most part, the entire world. The question that I have been presented with is in regards to the big issue of hunger that is a common theme in all areas of the world. As more food begins to run out, more individuals of the world become famished or hungry which is a huge problem in the rise of this world. One of my best qualities is the ability to find the best out of every situation that I have ever encountered or seen. There have been times where I have felt hopeless in whatever situation that I was in, I continued to keep my head held high and wish for better days. I can use this quality in regards to the issue of hunger because the problem at hand can be eased by viewing the issue from every angle possible with optimism. With optimism and hope and a never die attitude, I believe that the issue in regards to hunger can be solved over time. As this will not come by night or come by today or tomorrow or the near future, but with hope and optimism the issue of hunger can be resolved for centuries to come.
